MORE COMMERCIAL MOVING TALES

Read more about Olympia's commercial moving experiences:

Dear Michael,

Olympia Office Movers have hit the ground running this season with projects at several DC-area universities.

With finals behind our area college students, the last step before a beach-filled summer was the move out of their dorms. Olympia was there to assist.

Our crews were all over the campuses of Catholic, Georgetown, Howard, American, Loyola, and Johns Hopkins Universities as well as University of Maryland.

Services to the students included the pickup of their boxes direct from the dorms, which were then transported to our secured warehouse for the summer. When the summer winds down, we will be meeting each student with their boxes before the new school year begins.

Noted Georgetown University freshman Abigail C, "This service is great! I am from New Jersey and don't have room in my Civic for all my items. I will definitely use Olympia again."

At American University, Olympia assisted with the removal of old dorm furniture at Letts Hall. 120 rooms were cleared and prepped for a much-needed renovation this summer. All the furniture is destined for Haiti, where it will be used in schools, churches, and hospitals.

Do you need our help with a move? Olympia Office Movers has been in business since 1993, and maintains offices in Boston, Massachusetts and Washington, D.C. We have a great team of dedicated professionals, and will do everything within our power to exceed your expectations.
